STAR CRUISES SUPERSTAR VIRGO RESCUES CREW MEMBERS FROM SINKING SHIP FOR THE SECOND TIME IN TWO MONTHS

Star Cruises SuperStar Virgo once again came to the rescue of a sinking ship while sailing along the Straits of Malacca from Singapore to Port Klang today. The incident occurred in the morning when three crew members were spotted in the water by lookouts on the bridge of SuperStar Virgo, after their fishing vessel had sunk in unfavourable weather conditions. The onboard Man Overboard Team ("MOB") was immediately activated as the ship alerted the Malaysian Vessel Traffic Information System and prepared to rescue the survivors. Having launched the rescue team, all three survivors were picked up and brought onboard where they rested until the ship arrived in Port Klang.

This is the second such rescue incident involving SuperStar Virgo in two months where the constant training and preparedness to deal with any eventuality at sea were once again put to the test.
