Carefree excursions

Since SuperStar Gemini will be homeported in various Penang, Sanya and Shanghai, guests have the option to choose different shore excursions that would highlight the best local tourist attractions to them.

From Shanghai-homeported cruises, guests can leisurely experience the tourist hotpots in the ports of Busan, Jeju and Yeosu. In Busan, guests can also check out “Spaland”, which consists of a staggering 22 spas filled with natural spring water pumped up from 1,000m underground and other distinctively themed international saunas. Guests also have the option to soak up the sun in the hugely popular Haeundae Beach or Bulguksa Temple, a site steeped in history and was designated a World Cultural Asset by UNESCO in 1995.

In Jeju, we will provide excursion options in which guests can visit the must-see Mystery Road, a place where gravity is deceptively defied, and Dragon Pond, brimming with crystal clear streams and rolling greens. While in Yeosu, guests will be awed by Suncheon Bay, one of the top five coastal wetlands in the world. They will be in the midst of something special as the bay will play host to the International Garden Expo from April to October 2013.

Agile mind and body

The TV game show sensation “Minute to Win It” has been “geminized”! Guests onboard SuperStar Gemini will have tonnes of fun testing their hand-eye and limbs coordination in a series of quirky games, such as catching tennis ball with buckets attached to their heads or stacking up dices at the tip of a plastic stick held by the mouth. Contestants that reach the final in this fast-paced game will be rewarded with tempting prizes. Guests can also challenge their intellect agility in games, such as “Higher or Lower”, “What’s Next?” and “Crazy Friendly Feud”.

These are just snippets of what SuperStar Gemini has lined up. With a slate of new entertainment, shore excursions and recreational activities in the making, SuperStar Gemini is showing how eager it is to welcome a new generation of cruise holidaymakers. Resort-at-sea is best exemplified on SuperStar Gemini and she is a determined lady that pledges to offer more as the launch day draws near
